What this film is about:

This film was about a boy that met a giant. The giant wasn't just any giant it was a giant made out of iron. The Iron Giant ate metal all kinds of metal. Even a metal electrified runway tack.

My review of this film:

I like this film very much because the Iron Giant saved the entire city. The boy in the film had to make sure no one found out about the Iron Giant and also they were friends. I like the bit in the film where the Iron Giant picked up the boy and the boy could see everything.

It was sad at the end because the Iron Giant died to save the city. But the Iron Giant had a special ability where he can be put back together again.

My score for this film is: 10/10
